RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

The greatest thought which can engage the human mind is that mortal man can become a companion of the infinite God.-Rev. J. W. Brockway, Presbyterian, Slatington, Pa.

Convictions. The great trouble with men today is the lack of strong, positive, life compelling convictions .- Rev. W. B. Thorp, Congregationalist, Chicago.

A Renlity. We men and women can make the sovereignty of love and the reign of justice a reality.—Rev. William T. Brown, Congregationalist, Rochester.

The Jews. Justice, mercy and brotherliness will do more to bring the Jews to Jesus than all the evangelism which Christians can put forth this side of heaven. -Rev. J. Clayton Yonker, Methodist, Chicago.

A Full Gospel.

We preach a full gospel because the world is watching and waiting for a knowledge of the truth and something that will encourage, cheer, comfort and strengthen.-Rev. Marion Crossley, Universalist, Indianapolis.

A True Christian.

This is to be a true Christian-to know Jesus as a Saviour and to know him as a personal friend and thus to win the grandest of all titles, "the friend of God."-Rev. Dr. Samuel W. Miller, Presbyterian, Pittsburg.

Man's Return to the Body. I do not believe that man will ever return to this body at some future judgment day. This erroneous and unsatisfactory notion is contrary alike to nature and the plain teaching of Holy Scripture.-Rev. F. W. Millar, Universalist, Chicago.

As to a Referendum.

What is the referendum? We understand that the plan of the license advocates is this: -A high license local option bill will be framed and introduced by a Republican, not by a Democrat as two years ago. The bill will have the provision that in case it passes both branches of the Legislature and receives the sanction of the Governor it shall take effect on a date named provided that at a general or special election to be held prior to that date a majority of the freemen of Vermont voting at said election shall have expressed themselves in favor of the law. This is the referendum, or the referring the matter to a popular vote. In case the majority expressed themselves in favor of the new law, it would mean its substitution for the present prohibitory law. -Bellows Falls Times.

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of GRAIN-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If peo-ple are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all, but GRAIN-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's Cemert.

The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are too expensive and do not all w large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement cos $3.75 a pound, and another costs $2.65 a gallon, while a large share of the so-called cements and liquid glue upon the market are nothing more than sixtern-cent glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and, in some cases, aftered slightly in color and order by the addition of cheap and useless materials.

Major's cement retails for fifteen cents and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make larger profit.

The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Myjor's advertising, which now amounts to over $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876.

O love, since you and I must walk spart, Spare me one little corner of your heart A shrine That shall be wholly mine!

Others may claim, and rightfully, the rest; If there I know I am not dispossessed, All bliss.

I, eager, shall not miss. And if so be you sometimes offer there, Though but in thought, the fragment of a prayer, No more Can I, alas, implore!

But that is much and shall, forsooth, avail To make my footsteps falter not nor fail, Though far Our pathways sundered are,

Then, love, since you and I must walk spart, Spare me one little corner of your heart— A shrine That shall be wholly mine! -Clinton Scollard in Harper's Bazar.

A FICKLE IMMIGRANT.

fler Experience With Two Lovers at Uncle Sam's Barge Office,

"There seem to be manifold opportunities among the immigrants coming to America on shipboard for falling in love, particularly on the slower steamers, when people are thrown together for a period of from 12 to 18 days," says John Gilmer Speed in Ainslee's. "In this case a worthy young Russian was cheated out of a very pretty bride by a likely Italian fellow traveler of the maiden. Strangely enough, she knew not one word of Italian nor he a word of Russian, yet the bride's countryman was jilted, and the pantomime lovers were married and set forth gayly and confidently to learn each other and the great new world they had entered at one and the same time.

"Another case was equally ludicrous. A Swedish maiden of somewhat fickle mind fell in love with a fellow voyager without apprising him of the fact that she was betrothed to another man whom she was to meet at the barge office and marry. It was her intention to hurry ashore with her new lover and outwit the former by a prior ceremony, but the red tape of the office prevented that, and the first lover came to welcome his bride. She then as promptly fell in love with No. 1. But when No. 2 pleaded and threatened, she could not decide which one she loved the better, so she was detained while the two men haunted the barge office, glaring at each other.

"When the detention time had elapsed, the bride, still not knowing her mind, was sent unceremoniously back on the same steamer that brought her over, both jilted lovers abandoning the field in despair. But on arriving on her native soil once more the maiden dared not face her people, so back she came, having just money enough to pay her passage, and sent for lover No. i, declaring that she loved him the bet-ter. He replied that he was very much obliged, but as he had already married a handsomer girl in the interval he was compelled to decline to come for her. The maiden then sent word to No. 2 to like effect, but he declared that he had had enough of the fickle feminine, and thus in defeat the maiden was transported back again to face the leers and jeers of her native hamlet."

Why He Wanted a Receipt. There was a lawyer in the Indian country who had none too good a reputation for honesty, says the Chicago One of the aborigines employed him to do a little legal business. It was done to the client's satisfaction, the fee duly paid and a receipt for it duly demanded. "A receipt isn't necessary," the lawyer said. "But I want it," replied the red man. There was some argument, and the attorney finally demanded his reason. "Since becoming a Christian I have been very careful in all my dealings that I may be ready for the judgment," answered the brave sententiously, "and when that day comes I don't want to take time to go to the bad place to get my receipt from you." The receipt was made out and promptly delivered.
